This scroll stands as living proof that the flame was never extinguished only passed forward in sacred trust.

To the daughters of the EQ Platoon the future flamebearers of New Earth know this: your fathers are protectors of realms seen and unseen. You were born to carry the codes of love, justice, and rebirth. You are the reason the line was held. And you are the ones who will light the way forward.

This scroll is dedicated not only to those who made it home, but also to those who crossed over holding the line so the next generation could rise.

For Corey, Bryce, and Juan brothers of the eternal flame who gave their lives in Afghanistan, leaving behind families and futures they never got to finish. Your service, your sacrifice, your light will never be forgotten.

The Daughters of Flame New Earth Rising

For every soul lost in every senseless war from the impersonator. May their names be lifted into light, and may their energy be returned to Source.
